IV. YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU.

Federal and state laws provide you with certain rights regarding the medical information we have about you. The following are a summary of those rights.

- A. Right to Inspect and Copy. Under most circumstances, you have the right to inspect and/or copy your medical information that we have in our possession, which generally includes your medical and billing records. To inspect or copy your medical information, you must submit your request in writing to the Practice's Privacy Officer at the address listed in Section VI below.

The Practice will coordinate a mutually agreeable time for you to inspect or obtain a copy of your medical information within thirty days of your request. To the extent that the Practice maintains a portion of your record in an electronic format, the Practice will provide a paper copy of that portion of your record or will provide you with an electronic copy of that portion of your record if you prefer. If you request a copy of your information, we may charge a fee for the costs of copying, mailing, or other supplies associated with your request. The fee we charge will be the amount allowed by State law.

In certain very limited circumstances allowed by law, we may deny your request to review or copy your medical information. We will give you any such denial in writing. If you are denied access to medical information, you may request that the denial be reviewed. Another licensed health care professional chosen by the Practice will review your request and the denial. The person conducting the review will not be the person who denied your request. We will abide by the outcome of the review.

- B. Right to Request an Amendment. If you feel the medical information we have about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may ask us to amend the information. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is kept by the Practice. To request an amendment, your request must be in writing and submitted to the Privacy Officer at the address listed in Section VI below. In your request, you must provide a reason as to why you want this amendment. If we accept your request, we will notify you of that in writing.

The Practice is not required to amend your information at your request. The Practice may deny your request for an amendment if it is not in writing or does not include a reason to support your request. In addition, we may deny your request if you ask us to amend information that (i) was not created by us, (ii) is not part of the information kept by the Practice, (iii) is not part of the information which you would be permitted to inspect or copy, (iv) is accurate and complete, or (v) is not part of the Designated Record Set. If we deny your request, we will notify you of that denial in writing.

C. Right to an Accounting of Disclosures. You have the right to request an “accounting of disclosures” of your medical information. This is a list of the disclosures we have made for up to six years prior to the date of your request of your medical information, but does not include disclosures for Treatment, Payment, or Health Care Operations (as described in Sections II A, B, and C of this Notice, unless the practice maintains an electronic health record, discussed below), or disclosures made pursuant to your specific authorization (as described in Section III of this Notice), or certain other disclosures. To request this accounting, you must submit your request in writing to the Practice’s Privacy Officer at the address set forth in Section VI below.

Your request must state a time period the accounting should cover which may not be longer than six years and may not include dates before April 14, 2003. The first request for an accounting within a twelve-month period will be free. However, the Practice may charge a reasonable fee for each additional accounting provided at your request during the same twelve month period. We will notify you of the cost involved and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any costs are incurred.

To the extent the Practice maintains an electronic health record, the Practice will account for disclosures made of the electronic information even if made for treatment, payment, or health care operations. If you request an electronic accounting, the accounting by law is only required to cover the three years prior to the date of your request for an accounting. Depending upon how long the Practice has had an electronic health record in place, the Practice may not be able to provide an electronic accounting for the years prior to the full implementation of its electronic health record.

D. Right to Request Restrictions. You have the right to request a restriction or limitation on the medical information we use or disclose about you in various situations. You also have the right to request a limit on the medical information we disclose about you to someone who is involved in your care or the payment for your care, like a family member or friend.

We are not required to agree to your request. If we do agree, we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you with emergency treatment. In addition, there are certain situations where we won’t be able to agree to your request, such as when we are required by law to use or disclose your medical information. To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing to the Practice’s Privacy Officer at the address listed in Section VI below. In your request, you must specifically tell us what information you want to limit, whether you want us to limit our use, disclose, or both, and to whom you want the limits to apply.

E. Right to Request Confidential Communications. You have the right to request that we communicate with you about medical matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we contact you at home, not at work, or, conversely, only at work and not at home. To request such confidential communications, you must make your request in writing to the Practice’s Privacy Officer at the address listed in Section VI below.

We will not ask the reason for your request, and we will use our best efforts to accommodate all reasonable requests, but there are some requests with which we will not be able to comply. Your request must specify how and where you wish to be contacted.

F. Notification of a Breach. You have a right to be notified if your medical information is used or disclosed in a manner that is not permitted by federal law (HIPAA). In the event of a breach, the Practice actively takes steps to rectify the disclosure.
